Ms. Poonam Sondhi

“Happiness can exist only in acceptance.”

- George Orwell

The nature of time has always been dynamic with respect to varied branches of philosophy, literature and science. We cannot escape the invincible and insuperable spirit of time which keeps us moving. The only thing we can control is our acceptance to move relentlessly and rekindle the same spirit at every step.

Now, the time has come to accept the unflinching mutations of the organisms residing in the same space and evolving with time graciously. The world bore the brunt of negligence and has awakened like never before. The fear of socialising is looming large but we have to face our daunting dilemmas to rise and shine again. It is time to ‘accept’ and act in harmony with a smile on the face. It is time to revisit, reestablish and resurrect our glorious social past with a tint of protocols. The school is becoming instrumental in stimulating the balance between mental and social belongingness and instilling faith in the concept of a safe environment. We welcome all our learners with protective arms and secured smiles. It’s time to embrace coexistence and destroy our insignificant inhibitions. Let’s learn to be happy and spread happiness.
