Message from the Vice Principal

It is with a sense of humility and pride that I am writing this editorial. I feel humbled to have the privilege of presenting my ideas. There is also a sense of pride at the achievements of my students. My students have achieved so much in these ever changing and evolving times, that their capability never ceases to amaze me. Be it academics, sports or co-curricular activities, the accolades won by them have shown their strength and resilience.

The session 2022-23 began in hybrid mode, with all of us learning to adapt to the new normal. Gradually, we transitioned to the offline mode but with a huge emotional baggage. Some students were joyful to be back. Others had anxiety issues and showed non-verbal signs. This cautioned us that they needed a more sensitive approach to calm them and encourage them to come back to school day after day.

The teachers went beyond their call of duty to ensure that students felt comfortable and loved in the safe environment of the school. Our Principal, Mr. L V Sehgal guided our path with his wisdom and vast experience.

A sense of relief washed over us when the school started in pre-pandemic mode and school activities never looked so good. We went ahead with an unprecedented zeal to participate and win competitions, organise events and showcase our innovative ideas. This helped us to cope with the pending work of the last two years in the shortest time possible.

Our students left no stone unturned to show their teachers that they had realized the importance of offline learning and were willing to go the extra mile to showcase their efforts.

We are reaching the middle of our academic session and we have achieved academic laurels by scoring well in the class X & XII Board exams respectively. We also went on to win gold medals at the National and International levels in Athletics, Chess, Swimming, Volleyball and a plethora of other games. We won Zonal competitions in Art, Dance and Music category. Our NCC cadets became our pride with their exemplary performance at various camps. Our new team of Interactors and Office Bearers are ready to raise the benchmark set by their predecessors.

Our enthusiasm is unbridled, and we are raring to achieve greater heights of success in all that we do.

I wish each teacher and student of my school a fruitful year ahead. As someone rightly said, "Be so busy in improving yourself that you have no time to criticize others".

Vinita Dhawan
Vice Principal
